Annual Report

Fighting Hunger.

Feeding Hope.

Our 2008 - 2009 fiscal year marks 31 years helping to feed those in need in our service area. This year we saw a greater need than we've ever experienced. Our partner agencies - soup kitchens, pantries, shelters - reported substantial increases in the numbers of people they serve; many saw their demand double. More people sought food assistance due to the difficult economy. Many of those in need were asking for help for the first time.

Folks like the electrician and his family, who moved to Denver, after the rural company where he worked for many years closed. He hoped the move would provide opportunities for employment. He struggled to find a job and his wife, who did find work as a cosmetologist, was diagnosed with breast cancer. With no insurance and little income, they found themselves suddenly homeless.

He was staying at a men's shelter and his wife and kids were staying at another shelter. He commented, "I thought I did everything right. I worked hard, always provided for my family. We never needed help; in fact we helped others. I never thought we'd be in this situation."

We learned about the electrician and his family's plight while interviewing about 500 clients for Feeding America's Hunger in America Survey, a national study performed every four years to get a pulse on the issue of hunger. Our staff heard many heart breaking stories. Some of the questions were difficult for clients to answer. To the question "My children were not eating because I just couldn't afford enough food" we marked "Often True" and watched as the parent shook his head and held back tears. It's hard to believe that, right here in our community, children go to bed hungry at night and parents skip meals so their children can eat. But it does affirm our mission and inspire us to keep doing what we do every day.

And we couldn't do what we do every day if it wasn't for our generous donors of time, food and funds!

This year, we had more volunteer hours than ever before, equivalent to 35 full time employees. Volunteers helped us distribute food, pack USDA boxes, fill orders, sort reclamation products, help with office projects and so much more. We appreciate each and every one of them for sharing their time and talents!

We continue to receive food donations from retailers, distributors, farmers and wholesalers, but the volume of donated food this year did not keep up with the increased demand. Luckily, we were fortunate to add King Soopers, City Markets, Sam's Club and Walmart Supercenter stores to our Denver's Table Food Rescue Program pick-up schedule. The addition of these new retail donations could not have come at a better time, adding hundreds of thousands of pounds of nutritious fresh and frozen meat, dairy, produce and prepared product to our food list, food that would otherwise be thrown away.

Our fund donors have also continued to give generously. From individuals to corporations and foundations, gifts of cash allowed us to meet our annual budget and continue to be where we need to be to keep our programs running. For this, we are truly grateful!

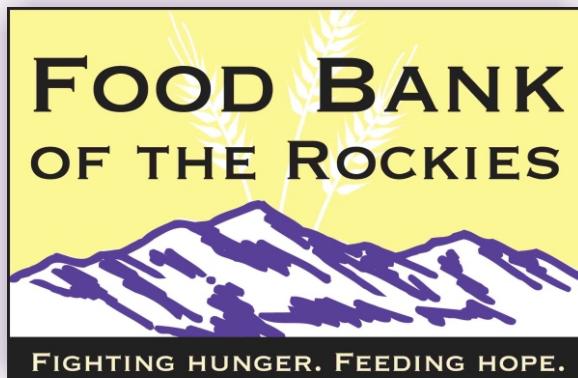

Finally and most notably, we wrapped up our 2009 fiscal year by meeting our capital campaign goal, ending the year with our building paid in full. We are extremely grateful to everyone who contributed to the campaign. These donations and efforts made it possible to leverage the entire $1.15 million in challenge grants made to us by our generous friends at the Boettcher, Gates Family and Kresge Foundations.

The pages in this report share many milestones for the year and display the names of some of those who helped make this year's accomplishments possible. Thank you! Together, we can make a big difference. And that difference is felt every day by our neighbors in need: a hot meal for a child after school, a tote filled with healthy food to help a senior through the month, a truckload of nutritious food taken back to a shelter to feed battered women and children with no place else to go. It is all possible because of your generosity!

In appreciation,

Kevin Seggelke
President and CEO

A green-eyed psychiatric patient, a grandpa not-so-fresh from the crypt, a scarecrow that would actually scare you, a few bloody beauties and several other horrific figures team up to pack 960 pounds of community food boxes and kick off a food drive a group of haunted houses held for FBR.

As part of the nationwide NFL "Click for Cans" Promotion, Campbell's Chunky Soup donates 1,000 cans of soup to FBR. Kids from FBR Member Agency, Bronco's Boys and Girls Club construct football themed creations from the cans. Afterwards, the kids enjoy soup for dinner.

FBR hosts a fun-filled Murder Mystery Dinner where participants join forces at the Curtis Hotel, to solve a murder and raise needed funds.

For the past 4 years, Lift Up America has partnered with Tyson Foods Inc. & Kroenke Sports to help bring the gift of food to the less fortunate in Metro Denver. 15,000 pounds of chicken is distributed at Dick's Sporting Goods Park and Colorado Rapids Players help load agency vehicles.

Tyson and Lift-Up America make a second donation of chicken to Food Bank of the Rockies. Kroenke Sports again hosts the event, this time at the Pepsi Center. Mark Russell, Denver Nuggets Community Representative and Jamie Van Leeuwen from Mayor Hickenlooper's office are pictured loading a member agency's vehicle.

Food Bank of the Rockies' Guild members serve lunch and provide presents and entertainment to children at FBR Member Agency, Mount Saint Vincent's Home.

After 18 years of dedicated service to Food Bank of the Rockies, Barbara Arko, Vice President of Development, retires. Barbara was responsible for overseeing all fundraising activities, board member recruitment and annual, capital and endowment campaigns. She also served as FBR's interim CEO in 2002. Barbara wore many hats for the organization and did a remarkable job in each position she held. We will miss her!

Food Bank of the Rockies participates in a press conference and drives a truck in the Martin Luther King Jr. Day Parade. Staff and volunteers collect food and funds during the event. Volunteers also come work in our warehouse on the holiday.

February

14 year old Kian Phair arrives on Tuesday evenings to volunteer and lights up the warehouse with his big smile. He's always ready to help agencies fill their orders and to take on any other task asked of him. 9NEWS chooses him as one of their 9 Kids Who Care winners for 2009.

Hunger in America 2009, a nationwide research study, kicks off. Over the next four months, we visit 42 agencies and interview 500 clients. Every four years, Feeding America member food banks across the U.S. participate in the study to gain data to better understand how hunger affects our citizens.

March

Month

National Agricultural Day participants make FBR a beneficiary of a large cash donation and a semi truck load of fresh flour.

April

As part of Comcast's 8th Annual Comcast Cares Day, 200 volunteers help FBR by packing food boxes, sorting and cleaning food, painting and landscaping our property. It's amazing what a difference one day and 200 hearts and hands can make.

Bruce Springsteen graces Denver and encourages concert goers to donate to FBR. Fans respond, dropping off cash donations totaling over $4,000.

The 17th annual National Association of Letter Carriers Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive has letter carriers around Colorado busy picking up food donations from mail boxes along their routes. Volunteers assist the letter carriers by bringing in and sorting the donated food and packing it into postal bins. FBR trucks pick up the food and return it to our warehouse where 100 more volunteers sort and box food to distribute to agencies.

June

When Food Bank of the Rockies moved into our current facility in 2006, we knew the need for food assistance was increasing. Expansion was necessary if we were to continue nourishing those less fortunate in our community.

Thanks to contributions of time, talent and resources, the tireless work of our staff, board and many volunteers and the incredible generosity of this community, Food Bank of the Rockies meets the goals of our capital campaign and starts the new fiscal year with our building paid in full!

Donations and efforts allow us to leverage the entire $1.15 million in challenge grants made to us by our generous friends at the Boettcher, Gates Family and Kresge Foundations.
